"Have you seen much of Tom to-day?" she asked, as an introduction.

began on me at once.

attention to him."

of him," I said.

quite sufficient."

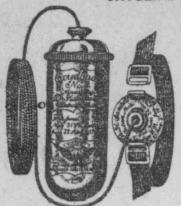

Anne threw up her hands.

him bring you up."
"He told you!" I flamed.

man should be what he says he is."

Anne and I both stared.

(YDONOR

A scientific instrument, invented and perfected by Dr. H. Sanche (after 40 years of study and practical demonstration)the medium by which oxygen acts upon abnormal conditions of the body, restoring normal balance of health, and preserving it against further attacks.

The instrument is small, and can be used without inconvenience anywhere, and at any time, quickly relieving acute cases.

FROM WOMAN'S

her daughters to homely ways. They are her ways, and experience has taught her the value of then, even if the necessity in all its branches, but must be able to make their own clothing, even to hats. Needlework, apparently, is an important

It almost makes one ashamed to think shells for creamed or minced foods.

other way, and a 10-cent can of potash.

for which I pay 5 cents a bar, and purer,

A Delightful Steamer Chair Pillow

Of all gifts for a friend about to depart on an ocean trip a long pillow, the width and length of her steamer chair, is the nicest. This pillow may be made by joining together three or four small square pillows and covering them all ogether with black satin.

There should be a ribbon handle at one hold the pillow firmly against the back. If not formed by joining smaller pillows ogether the cushion should be divided off in three parts so that it can fold up easily to be packed in the holdall.

Only a girl who has remained huddled for hours at a time in an uncompre misingly hard steamer chair will appreit will not soil and does not rub off, as Another extremely acceptable gift of on voyage is a small silk or leather covered pillow made with a handle at one end so that it can be conveniently carried, and a flap at one side divided in two to form pockets. In the pockets a book may be carried or an extra veil or small writing case. This pillow should be about eighteen inches square. Quite when a dainty linen cover is substituted for the heavier leather one.

From the Catholic News,

Hard to Choose.

red is apt to do in damp air.

comfortably, too miserable to move, this proves too expensive, satin can be substituted. Black is the best color, as nd to slip over the top of the chair and m the Detroit Tribune.

Oxydonor was successfully introduced in Washington sixteen years ago, and hundreds are now in use. We find it necessary (after many requests) to open permanent local offices for the sale of the instrument, and where advice can be obtained for the proper use of same in complicated cases.

OXYDONOR gives the sweet sleep of childhood-patients awake refreshed and invigorated-a few nights' use of OXY-DONOR will convince the most skeptical. Who would not rather be cured by natural process? Most of the sleep-producing medicines weaken the heart, destroy the red blood corpuscles, and bring depressing reaction-then why use them when the OXYDONOR at small expenditure now will save you from the drug habit, and possibly insanity-so often the result of INSOMNIA.

One lasts a life time. The family can all benefit from the use

Many convincing testimonials from well-known residents and de-ptive books can be obtained gratis in the office, 1225 F street northwest, second floor.
Office Hours, until further notice, TUESDAY, THURSDAY, and SAT-URDAY, 1:30 to 5:30 P. M.

families.

AMUSEMENTS.

BELASCO_TO-NIGHT Nights, BEN GREET STOCK CO. 50c 75c The Comedy of Errors. Sat.

NEXT WEEK-"CASTE." Monday Night-CLARA MORRIS BENEFIT.

To-night CURTAIN UP At 8:15 Sharp The COLUMBIA Secure Your PLAYERS IN "CAUGHT No One Seated While Curtain Is Up. MATINEES THURS, and SAT

25c & 50e

"A BACHELOR'S ROMANCE" No 'Phone Orders NATIONAL Night Prices—25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, Saturday Matinee—25c, 50c, 78c, To-night and Saturday and Mat. Sat.

RIGOLETTO 25c. 50c, 75c $1.00 KOW ON SALE

25c&

50c

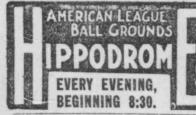

Next Week-THE BOHEMIAN GIRL-Seats Now. SUNDAY NIGHT AT 8:15, ABORN OPERA COMPANY CARLO NICOSIA, Director.

THE ARCADE, 14th Street and Park fload. Roller Skating

25—EVENINGS—25 TO THE MIDWAY AND BALLROOM. FREE USE OF SKATES 10-AFTERNOONS-10 y other novel features, including Pool ds, Bowling, Japanese Roll Ball, Shuffle and the best moving pictures in town.

ASINO THEATER 7th & F Sts. Most Perfectly Fireproof Theater in America, ALL THIS WEEK,

THE GIRL OF MYSTERY Prices: MATINEES, ALL SEATS, 10C, EVENINGS, 10C AND 20C. Performances: From 1:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. and from 7:30 to 11 p. m.

MASONIC AUDITORIUM N.Y. AVE. Every Eve. | MOVING 7:30 to 10:30 PICTURES EVERY ALL SEATS, 10c AND VAUDEVILLE ALL SEATS, 10c.

> MENUS AND RECIPES. TO-DAY'S MENU.

BREAKFAST. Fruit. Sugar and cream. Baked potatoe Golden Muffins. Coffee. LUNCH.

Fried squabs in brown sauce. Green peas. Rye drop cakes. Iced tea. DINNER. Portugal soup.

Broiled fish. Butter sauce. Mashed potatoes. Cumberland salad. Asparagus Vanilla ice cream with maple sauce. Coffee.

ful and a quarter each of rye meal and flour, one teaspoonful of salt, and two teaspoonfuls and a half of baking powder. Beat two eggs, add one scant curful der. Beat two eggs, add one scant cupful envelope is a useful addition to the traveling outfit. A girl who has accustomed add one-quarter of a cupful of molasses. herself to sleeping always on a tiny flat small spoonfuls into smoking- pillow will have much to be thankful for hot deep fat and fry slowly in the same in traveling. Often severe headaches are brought on by having to sleep on a Hot maple sauce for ice cream—Break fine a pound of maple sugar, cover with boiling water, and stand at the side of the fire until dissolved. Draw forward and boil slowly but steadily until the air cushions with her always and there and boil slowly but steadily until the syrup threads when tested with a fork. Stir in enough broken pecans—about two-thirds of a cupful—to make the sauce quite thick, and send immediately to the table.

Stir in enough broken pecans—about two-thirds of a cupful—to make the sauce should have made for this pillow before starting off a detachable leather case so that during the day on the boat or train the pillow will be just as useful as at practical expression.

It is a beautiful thought that together and decrease expenses.

It is a beautiful thought that together the can all help each other; that the strong can help the weak; those with ability the less able. But it should not be merely a thought. It should find the pillow will be just as useful as at practical expression.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought

The Novel from Which the Play "Seven Days" Was Made.

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART, Author of "The Circular Staircase" and "The Man in Lower Ten." Copyright, 1909. The Bobbs-Merrill Company.

CHAPTER XIII.

He Does Not Deny It.

Aunt Selina got up the next morning and Jim told her ail the strange things that had been happening. She fixed on Flannigan, of course, although she still suspected Betty of her watch and other valuables. The incident of the comfort she called nervous indigestion and bad

She spent the entire day going through the storeroom and linen closets and running her fingers over things for dust. Whenever she found any she looked at me, drew a long breath, and said, "Poor James!" It was maddening. And when she went through his clothes and found some buttons off (Jim didn't keep a man, and Takahiro had stopped at his boots) she looked at me quite awfully.

"Or sneeze," I added venomously.
"You will tear your buttons off and I will have to sew them on."
Jim rose wrathfully. "Don't sit, don't sneeze," he repeated. "Don't stand, I sat and thought it over after Anne's parting shot, when Leila had flounced downstairs. Things were closing in; I suppose, for fear I will wear out my socks. Here, give me that. If the fool that time Flannigan would accuse me openly of knowing where the nearly were. I would ex-

"His mother was a perfect housekeeper," she said. "James was brought up in clothes with the buttons on, put on

"Didn't they put them on him?" I asked, almost hysterically. It had been a bad morning, after a worse night. Every one had found fault with the breakfast, and they straggled down one at a time until I was frantic. Then Flannigan had talked at me about the pearls, and Mr. Harbison had said "Good morning" very stiffly and nearly rattled the inside of the furnace out.

Early in the morning, too, I overheard a scrap of conversation between the policeman and our gentleman adventurer from South America. Something had gone wrong with the telephone and Mr. Bella's order,
"Wash the table linen!" he was grum-

POINT OF VIEW. bling. "I'll do what I can that's neces-sary. Grub has to be cooked and dishes has to be washed—I'll admit that. If you're particular, make up your bed every day; I don't object. But don't tell me we have to use thirty-three table don't want to know it."

1 suppose you mean Mr. Harbison, I suppose you will be well as the suppose you mean Mr. Harbison, I suppose you will be well as the I have not much patience with the person who declares against leftovers. There are ways of utilizing every scrap of food so that the dishes will be nutritious and napkins a day. What did folks do before napkins were invented? Tell me that!" easy to digest. There is no extravagance like that which obtains in the kitchen, and economy in food is more important -triumphantly. "What's the answer?" Mr. Harbison than a knowledge of cookery, which is recommended for all women. inquired absently, evidently with the screw-driver in his mouth. "Used their pocket handkerchiefs! And The Queen of England is bringing up if the worst comes to the worst, Mr. Har-bison, these folks here can use their sleeves, for all I care-not that the wo en has any sleeves to speak of. Wash of using them is absent. These girls must not only understand home-making lothes I will not."

"Well, don't worry Mrs. Wilson about "Mrs. Wilson about it," the other voice said. Flannigan straightened himself with a grunt.
"Mrs. Wilson!" he said. "A lot she would worry. She's been a disappointment to me, Mr. Harbison, me thinking that now she'd come back to him, after leavily, but the way she did they?" branch of feminine education in royal leavin' him the way she did, they'd be that home means so much to persons of like two turtle-doves. Lord! the cook rank and so little to the masses. Home is merely a shelter at night to thousands next doorof human beings, who want nothing more and Jimmy was not divulged, for the pretentious because their whole attention But what the cook had told about Bella s centered upon outside recreation. Fine lothes and public entertainment are the lothes and public entertainment are the main features of existence, and home life at its best is known to the few who have been brought up in the good, old-fashioned way.

It did not seem possible to carry on the deception much longer, but if things were bad now, what would they be when Aunt Selina learned she had been lied to, Aunt Selina learned she had been lied to, The ice box of the average home offers how would I be able to live in the house fine possibilities for occasional meals which cost nothing worth mentioning.
There may be the bit of fish which can the house that numbers of little. Grand Opera Concert be creamed and served with baked potations or used in a salad. There are cold damning were never noticed at all. For potatoes to hash or cream, and the dishes of peas or beans for salads or to use with creamed fish or meat. Many left-overs make dainty fillings for omelets, and left-over biscuits make delicious creating a diversion and giving everycreating a diversion and giving every-body an opportunity to laugh by saying not to mind it, it had been in soak before A good neighbor made me sixteen bars Just after luncheon Aunt Selina brough of pure white soap from five pounds of grease, which could not be used in any me some undergarments of Jim's to be patched. She explained at length that he had always worn out his undergarments They were heavier than the laundry soap because he always squirmed around so when he was sitting. And she showed of course. That is an economy worth while. I save scraps of toilet soap and make liquid soap like that used in hotels. me how to lay one of the garments over a pillow to get the patch in properly.

It was the most humiliating moment of my life, but there was no escape. I took Many housekeepers use bacon fat for frying fish and meat croquettes, and sub-stitute drippings for lard in all cooking. stitute drippings for lard in all cooking.
There are many recipes in which a whole egg can be left out of extra beating is substituted, and cream for berries and fruit can be made by placing a pan of the repeated by the rebellious tears rolled down my cheeks. The patch was not the shape of the rolled over the front. A button had even been torn off." substituted, and cream for berries and fruit can be made by placing a pan of milk on the back of the range and allowing a gentle heat to gather the fat in a soft crust, easily removed. The garbage soft crust crus soft crust, easily removed. The garbage can should reveal little more than parings, for all else can be put to use.

BETTY BRADEEN.

Stitch I sewed It last to the same up after a while and sat down across from me and watched, without saying anything. I suppose what he felt would not thing. I suppose what he felt would not thing.

Barbara

fit, that overcoat, and that is Dallas, While Anne was choking down her wrath Leila got up and darted out of the tent. When she came back she was triumphant. "Look," she said, holding out her hand. And on her palm lay a lightish brown button. "I found it just where the paper said the board was thrown out, and it is his arms are like piano legs; he couldn't get into it. As for the others, there is only one person who would fit, or nearly om Mr. Harbison's overcoat, without a Of course, I should not have been sur-both reached the point where adequate language failed us. Finally he said:

"I wish I were dead."
"So do I," I retorted, jerking the prised. A man who would kiss a woman on a dark staircase—a woman he had known only two days-was capable of anything.
"Kit has only been a little keener than

"Where is she now?"

"Looking for more of these." I indicated the garment over the pillow, and he wiggled. "Please don't squirm," I said coldly. "You will wear out your—said coldly. "You will wear out your—ly, preparing to go, "if I didn't know you girls so well I would think you were winners. I would think you were girls so well I would think you were the said. "She Iouna him out yesterday."

"Upon my word," said Anne indignantly, preparing to go, "if I didn't know you girls so well I would think you were the said. "She Iouna him out yesterday."

"Rit nas on," Lollie said. "She Iouna him out yesterday."

"Upon my word," said Anne indignantly, preparing to go, "if I didn't know you girls so well I would think you were the pillow, and him out yesterday."

"Upon my word," said Anne indignantly, preparing to go, "if I didn't know you girls so well I would think you were the pillow, and him out yesterday."

"Upon my word," said Anne indignantly, preparing to go, "if I didn't know you girls so well I would think you were the pillow, and him out yesterday."

"Upon my word," said Anne indignantly, preparing to go, "if I didn't know you girls so well I would think you were the pillow, and him out yesterday." lingerie, and I will have to mend them.

He sat very still for five minutes, when I discovered that I had put the patch in crosswise instead of lengthwise and that it would not fit. As I jerked it out he sneezed.

The sat very still for five minutes, crazy. And now, just to offset this, I can tell you something. Flannigan told me this morning not to worry; that he has my pearl collar spotted, and that young ladies will have their jokes!"

Yes, as I said before, it was a cheerful,

He went over to a corner of the para-plain my silly remark to him, and the pet and turned his back to me. He was mine would explode—under Aunt Selina. very much offended. In about a minute I was sunk in dejected reverie when I was sunk in dejected reverie wery much offended. In about a minute he came back, triumphant, and held out the result of his labor. I could only gasp. He had puckered up the edges of the hole like the neck of a bag, and had tied the thread around it. "You—you wouldn't be able to sit down," I ventured.

"Don't have any view to git?" he was sunk in dejected reverie when some one came on the roof. When he was opposite the opening in the tent I saw Mr. Harbison, and at that moment he saw me. He paused uncertainly, then he made an evident effort and came over to me. "You are-better to-day?"

"Don't have any time to sit," he retorted promptly. "Anyhow, it will give some, won't it? It would if it was tied with elastic instead of threed." I ar with elastic instead of thread. Have you any elastic?"

Lollie came up just then, and Tim took

"I am glad you find the tent useful.

Does it keep off the wind?"

"It is quite a shelter," frigidly.

Lollie came up just then, and Jiim took himself and his mending downstairs. Luckily, Aunt Selina found several letmind, for he lifted the cap he was wearters in his room that afternoon while she was going over his clothes, and as it took Jim some time to explain them, she clever with tools; one could see that. If took Jim some time to explain them, she clever with tools; one could see that. If the was a professional gentleman-burglar no doubt he needed to be. After a bit, finding it necessary to climb to the paralifting rugs to shake them on the roof closed the door to the stairs, and coming pet, he took off his coat, without even a over, drew a chair close to mine. glance in my direction, and fell to work vigorously.

One does not need to like a man to ad-"I suppose you mean Mr. Harbison, ollie," I said. "No-not any more than mire him physically, any more than one needs to like a race horse or any other splendid animal. No one could deny that the man on the parapet was a splendid animal; he looked quite big enough and "Look here, Kit," she retorted, "you needn't be so superior. If I like to talk scandal, I'm not so sure you aren't makstrong enough to have tossed his der bridge across the gulf to the next roof without any difficulty and co-Ing it."

That was the way right along: I was flourish to safety. nate enough to have crossed on it with a making scandal; I brought them there to dinner; I let Bella in! Just then there was a rending, tearing sound from the corner and a muttered And, of course, Anne came up then and ejaculation. I looked up in time to see Mr. Harbison throw up his arms, make a "You are a very bad girl," she began.

"What do you mean by treating Tom Harbison the way you do? He is heartfutile attempt to regain his balance, and instant he was standing there, splendid, superb; the next, the corner of the para-pet was empty, all that stood there was "I think you exaggerate my influence over him," I retorted. "I haven't treated him badly, because I haven't paid any a broken, splintered post and a tangle of

I could not have moved at first; at asi, it seemed hours before the full sig-"There you are!" she said. "He worked all day yesterday fixing this place for you—yes, for you, my dear. I am not blind—and last night you refused to let walk, to crawl, with leaden weights hold-ing back my feet.

When I got to the corner I had to catch the post for support. I knew somebody

"He wondered what he had done. And as you wouldn't let him come within over. It was only afterward that I knew speaking distance of you, he came to it had been myself. And then some other voice was saying, "Don't be alarmed. "I am sorry, Anne, since you are fond find," I said. "But to me he is impossible - intolerable. My reasons are ly, and instead of a crushed and unquite sufficient."

"Kit is perfectly right, Anne," Leila broke in. "I tell you, there is something queer about him," she added in a portentous whisper. across his cheek. There was a sort Anne stiffened.

"He is perfect," she declared. "Of good family, warm-hearted, courageous, clever—what more do you "I thought you had fallen — all the "I thought you had fallen — all the proceed trying to keep my lips."

"Honesty," said Lella hotly. "That a from trembling. "I — oh, don't dangle your feet like that!"

He did not seem at all glad of his es-Anne and I both stared.
"It is your Mr. Harbison," Leila went cape, He sat there gloomily, pearing into the gulf beneath.

on, "who tried to escape from the house by putting a board across to the next "If it wasn't so-er-messy and gener-ally unpleasant," he replied, without

"I don't believe it," said Anne. "You might bring me a picture of him, board in hand, and I wouldn't believe it."
"Don't then," Lollie said cruelly. "Let "See if you can get through the window."

"Don't then," Lollie said cruelly. Let him get away with your pearls; they are yours. Only, as sure as anything, the man who tried to escape from the house had a reason for escaping, and the pahad a reason for escaping dress and my sewing to the roof, while she went had a reason for escaping, and the padown and gather up the scattered ends away to find something else for me to do pers said a man in evening dress and when that was finished, and I sat with light overcoat. I found Mr. Harbison's when he came back he made no effort to renew our conversation. He ignored me perienced is just as bad as if you had gone-all the way.'

He put down the hammer and came over to me without speaking. Then, when he was quite close, he said: "I am sorry if I startled you. I did not flatter myself that you would be profoundly affected in any event."

"Oh, as to that," I said lightly, "it makes me ill for days if my car runs over a dog." He looked at me in silence. "You are not going to get up on that parapet again?" Wilson," he said, without paying the slightest attention to my ques-tion, "will you tell me what I have done?" "Done?" "Or have not done? I have racked my brains-stayed awake all of last night

At first I hoped it was impersonal, that, woman-like, you were merely venting Some one has said that co-operation is the co-operative spirit a chance to grow, general disfavor on one particular individual. But-your hostility is to me, personally.' I raised my eyebrows, coldly interrog-

"Perhaps," he went on calmly-"perhaps I was a fool here on the roof-the night before last. If I said anything that I should not, I ask your pardon. If it is not that, I think you ought to ask I was angry enough then. "There can be only one opinion about your conduct," I retorted warmly. "It was worse than brutal. It-it was unspeakable. I have no words for it-ex-

"Oh!" I was choking.
"Under different circumstances I should be the last person to recall anything so—others?" "You wouldn't dare," I cried, "or I will tell them what you did! How you way-laid me on those stairs there and forced your caresses, your kisses, on me! Oh, I could die with shame!" up. "You cannot deny it," I said, a sort of "No." He was very quiet, very grim, quite composed. "No," he repeated judicially. "I do not deny it." Which? He did not? Or he would not? Which?

TO BE CONTINUED TO-MORROW.

Rival Attractions.

Silks---Remnant lengths

Ayd., 19c Ayd., 29c

Foulards.
Messalines.
Fancy Silks.
Lengths from 1½ to 6 yards. Vorth up to 75c a yard. First Floor—Silks.

Peau de Cygnes. Foulards. Messalines. Pongees and broken stripes. Lengths from 3 to 12 yards. Worth from 65c to $1.00 a yard.

MORNING CHIT-CHAT.

HE man I love doesn't love me. Tell me some way to make him." is the substance of the world-old appeal that occasionally appears in my mail in one form or another. Dear folks, if I could give any recipe for the solution of that trouble, don't you know that I'd be rich beyond the dreams of avarice or Midas or John D?

All I can offer is just a few suggestions. Take them for what they are worth. I really think that's a little something. There is an old idea that if you want to win a man's love, it helps for you to act indifferent toward him. I think that is a great mistake. Indifference seldom serves as a spur except when your steed is already galloping. If I wanted to make a man love me, I should show him in a frank, open way-not boldly, or in forward fashion, but just as I would a girl-that I liked and admired him. That, if it didn't do anything else, at least would convince him that I had surprisingly good taste. Secondly, I should ask his advice. A man naturally feels superior when he is giving advice, hence pleased with himself, hence pleased with you. Ask it often, steer him around to telling you what you intend to do anyway, and then make sure that he knows you are following his words of wisdom.

Then I would take an interest in his health. Never mind how little need there seems to be. The bigger and brawnier the man, the more fuss he likes to have made over him, because he has been used to fuss.

And then I would surprise him by the intelligent interest I took in his fads. Not-mind you-by what I knew about them, but by what I wanted to know. I know a girl who fell in love with a man who had a mania for botany. She knew nothing about botany and hated sciences of all kinds, but she got a book and read up on it. "I suppose he was surprised to find out how much you knew about botany," I said when she told me about it. "Oh, no;" she answered. "I didn't act as if I knew anything about it-only as if I wanted to know. I did that reading not so that I could appear well informed, but so that I could ask intelligent questions and listen well. I knew that was all he'd want."

When I had brought him to a letter writing stage, I would make it a point, no matter how much I wanted to, not to answer his letters too quickly. Nothing gives value to a letter like having to wait longer than you expected to for it. Even the letter you are comparatively indifferent to acquires an inflated value from delay-and the letter you are really anxious for-well, your eagerness for that gets fairly burned into your

And, lastly, I'd go after him with all the arts that convention allowed Of course, I don't mean I would openly pursue him. That would probably be as unsuccessful as it was unwomanly-although I have seen the woman who hunts her quarry in the open field succeed What I mean is, that if I loved a man and were afraid he wasn't going to love me, I wouldn't sit still and supinely wish he might.

I would deliberately set to work to study his tastes and his habits. his fads and his ideals, his sense of humor, his admirations, and his dislikes, and in so far as I could do it in a womanly way I wo self to their measure.

Impossible? To anything else but love-Yes. BUTH CAMERON.

LATEST FASHIONS.

3023 LADIES' DRESSING SACK. Paris Pattern No. 3023

The easy, comfortable lines of this pretty dressing sack at once commend it for practical use. White and blue dotted French flannel was the material used in the making, but the daintily colored fiannelettes, as well as cotton crepe cashmere, lawn and dotted Swiss, will all make up prettily. The back is semifitting and the front fullness is held in place by blue ribbons attached to the under-arm seams, and tied in front. A bow of similar ribbon is used at the neck. The pattern is in 4 sizes, 36 to 44 inches bust measure. For 36-inch bust

> Washington Herald Pattern Coupon.

Name Address......

Fill out the numbered coupon and cut out pattern, and inclose, with 10 cents in stamps or coin, addressed to Pattern Department. The Washington Herald. Washington, D. C.

Size desired

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup used for over SIXTY-FIVE YEARS by dividuality in dress is the secret. The thought is a happly one, for it means that one need not depend upon importations from expensive designers nor upon a limited purse. The woman behind the gown is the important thing. Indi-vidual taste should never be allowed to be submerged under the latest fashion. "Everybody wears them" is the watchword of the woman who lacks a forceful personality, and generally the quality of being distinctly well dressed.

This means that each woman is a law unto herself and should consider gown or hat that she is selecting with a

THE SECRET OF DRESSING.

One word spells this charm that every voman recognizes, many women strive for, and comparatively few achieve. Insane eye to her own defects and her own good points. You will frequently notice that many well-dressed women confine themselves to a limited scale of colors, confine The reason is obvious. Few of us are of complexion that is suited to all shades, and every one has a becoming This tendency to wear blue in its many gradations, or brown, varying from twine to the dark golden brown, or the tints and shades of green, gives individuality and also a practical opening to a happy combination of one's clothes. A blue hat can be worn with all dresses if this scheme be followed out.

Another secret of being well dressed is the exercise of good judgment. The eter-nal fitness of things is an important factor. Do not wear frills and flounces with unnecessary jewelry when at work, and do not wear your office shirt waist when attending an evening function. The unattractive figure of a woman should not be made conspicuous by conspicuous costumes; the young girl should not affect styles that are suitable to her mother.

Last of all, avoid extremes! Do not make your hat too large in this season of large hats, and do not hide your head too lecidedly under the Oriental turban. The sleeves must not approach the ridiculous, as they did years ago, by being foolishly ample, and when a dress is in the scanty class let us not be disgustingly so. Give to your dress as much attention as you do to your manners. Both speak for you or against you. Which is it to be?

Chicken Virginian. From the Philadelphia Star.

The hostess who likes to have novelties at her after-theater chafing dish supper should make that delicious concoction, "chicken Virginian."

The maid brings in the breast of a plump hen, neatly skinned and boiled until tender; there should be half a breast for each guest. On another plate are slices of Virginia ham, and on a third mushrooms. Other ingredients are butter, paprica, and a little onion, salt, rich cream, and a little flour for thickening with parsley and yolk of eggs. The mushrooms may be browned in butter in one chaing dish, while in the other is made a rich cream juice, into which, at the last, is stirred the yolks of two eggs. This should be highly seasoned. Just before it is cooked the breasts of chicken are stirred into it to get thoroughly hot, rounds of hot buttered toast, or, better yet, croutons, with first a slice of the Virginia ham, then the chicken in its sauce, with a border of mushrooms around each breast. It is delicious as it stands, and with a simple lettuce salad with French dressing, thin bread and butter, cheese and a cup of coffee, will make an ample supper with comparatively little trouble.

Retort Direct. From Catholic Standard and Times,

MILLIONS of MOTHERS for their CHILDREN WHILE TEETHING, with PERFECT SUCCESS. It SOOTHES the CHILD ROFTENS the GOTMS ALLAYS all PAIN; CURES WIND COLIC and is the best remety for DIARRHEA, Sold by Druggistish every part of the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Guaranteed under the Food and Drugs act, June 20th, 1906. Serial Number "Con't you ever, use your imagination on your painting?"

practical expression.

The majority who think of co-operation think of it vaguely, as of some big ques-tion that can only affect masses of people, as a phase of living to be put into great opportunity to be of service to your clate the difference such a pillow will the next step in evolution. This progress and afford opportunity for the training of it, for the co-operative spirit will need a schooling ill or well, this satin phase of joy and happiness and develop-hundreds of years ago. To-day it is al- this way they all get the services of a most a fact.

Gov. Hughes voiced it most symgood man, give him a steady job, and pay mine!"

I wa pathetically in a speech recently, when snows, he clears a path to the station he said: "There are two ways of looking at snow sled, and by the time the com-things in this world. One way is to muters must catch the morning train speakable. see how much you can deprive your they have paths to walk in, instead of neighbor of, and how much you can plowing knee-deep through the snow. He was very grim by this time. "I have heard you say something like that gather in for your own enrichment in In the summer, instead of each individual every possible way, beating people down family having to hunt a man to care before—only I was not the unfortunate the sack will require 3% yards of manches wide, 2% yards 36 inches wide, with before—only I was not the unfortunate wide and 2 yards 42 inches wide, with by grasping and gripping and squeezing for the lawn, securing indifferent ones, in that case. the last drop of blood you can get out of them; that's one way, and it is a very entire business, hires such assistants as "Under diff."

successful, if you have capacity for any to lighten their household tasks. They great matter, why, all the greater re- could have a laundry of their own if sponsibilities upon you because of the they wanted it, where, under the supervision of their own committee, the washing could be done for the community "We are all together here in this according to laundry rules of their own world. We cannot split ourselves up into making. They could co-operate on a classes if we try. We have to go up or community vacuum cleaner. Any little covered pillow will prove a delight. It will require three and a half yards of satin to make this pillow, and naturally, a fairly heavy quality must be used. If poor way. The other way is to go through life with the notion that if you have ability, if you have talent to run a business, if you have capacity to a business, if you have capacity to large enterprise and make it towns could co-operate in many ways of the last person to recall anything soperation be the last person to recall anything soperation and orderly. A committee of the residents has the matter in charge.

The Boyd The Ballon

Women who live in small suburban me. "Will you tell me what I have towns could co-operate in many ways of there?"

we will go down together. We want to realize that in society we are all together and think of many things which by co-operation would lessen housework the excited of the two. Finally, I looked ing her methods or she won't play. The best way of doing the work in hand must be thrashed out irrespective of personal whims or likings. And when the right way, right in itself, is discov-From the Catholic News,

"Edward," said the teacher, "you have spelled the word rabbit with two ts. You must leave one of them out."

"Yes, ma'am," replied Edward; "which one?"

operation pointering, thousands. But coit. As Gov. Hughes says, "We must stand together." Unworthy little critioperation could be put into practice in scores of little ways in every community cisms, and gossip, and prejudices, must to the good of the community and of the dropped. But surely the greater good of the individuals. Besides, it would give that co-operation will bring is worth it. operation politically, or in business energed, the co-operators must stand by terprises employing thousands. But co-it. As Gov. Hughes says, "We must

From the Presbyterian Standard. First child-We've got a new baby at Second child (contemptuously)-We're